

Studia Ecologiae et Bioethicae
year: 2010, vol.:8 number: 2, pages: 107-119

---

---

Mariusz Ciszek

Uniwersytet Przyrodniczo-Humanistyczny w Siedlcach, Wydział Humanistyczny, ul. 3 Maja 49, 08-110 Siedlce, Poland.
ciszek00@poczta.onet.pl

THE ECOTERRORISM AS THE THREAT FOR THE POLICY OF BALANCED DEVELOPMENT. IDEOLOGICAL AND PRACTICAL ASPECT

(„Ekoterroryzm zagrożeniem dla polityki zrównoważonego rozwoju.

Aspekt ideologiczny i praktyczny)

Keywords: ECOTERRORISM, SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

Abstract; The balanced development is the conception friendly attitude to the matter of protection the human's social and natural environment. More of ecological organization accept this idea, which they try to introduce in life. However, we can meet with activity of those ecological organizations which have the radical character and in fact they have much less common with the conception of the balanced development and they are even opposite. The balanced development does not aim to set back the social and economical development of human civilization, but it tries to reconcile with requirements of the protection the natural environment (to balance). The ideology of some ecological radicals' formations, their methods of working ( the practical aspect) show however, that in fact such seen the comprehended development of human civilizations is with their point of sight too moderated and not to acceptable. The author in this article introduced the basic arguments supported such opinions. He characterized also the individual extreme ecological organizations and he tried to establish on the basic literature of this object the border which permits to distinguish from these radical organizations those which we can recognize as ecoterrorist.